of the gaol. A black flag was raised on the prison wall to mark the event, but there was no crowd, and the execution produced no more effect in the town than an ordinary death. "The usual horrors" says the Speciator, " were therefore want-induced. The smallness of the space, the nearness of the spectators, the quiet, let us add, they do their best to diffuse,

No description of an execution we ever key-note thus struck by the Specialor has been taken up by many other influential papers notably the Pall Mall Gazette. One of the chief elements in the execution in question to which this latter paper most properly objects aside from the sensational narratives afterwards published—is that in addition to "members of the press," three other gen tlemen holding neither literary or official positions were present, having, it was suspected, passed themselves off as reportors. And herein, it says, lies the danger.

"Formerly, admittance to the press room, before an execution, was eagerly sought by that class of persons whose imaginations are fed by witnessing the last agonies of an unhappy criminal. Now the same class will undoubtedly use

If the callous nature of the Chinaman his utter, stolid, indifference to the sight of capital punishment or torture inflicted upon others be taken into account it may we think, be safely inferred that the mere sight of an execution exercises but little deterrent effect upon his mind. To the civilized man, it is the extinction of life which is the supreme terror. Not so to the Chinese. The possibility of mutilation afterdeath is to him more dreadful than the act compelling the soul to quit the greatest fear which prevails is lest they should be dissected after death. and this fear would undoubtedly be increased were the executions private, excent by some signal to the outside multitude that a criminal had been executed: such. for instance, as that adopted in America where a black flag is hoisted for a certain time during which—the precise moment being unknown to those outside the criminal is executed. The difficulty however here is not lest too many "with a taste for horrors" witness the death struggle, but lest the Chinese re fuse to believe in the fact that execution has actually taken place unless they see the lifeless body. Measures might of course be easily adopted to ensure this, but the subject is worthy of some little considera-We strongly advocate private execution provided means can be found to impress the Chinese with the fact that it has actually occurred and this mainly on grounds quite different to those which have moved Englishmen to abolish the bereavement. The body having been r hanging is considered in China an honorable death, just as we consider death by Express. the bullet as less disgraceful than by the hangman's cord, and the rowdies here are not backward in expressing their contempt for it as now carried out. If the object of execution here be not only to ensure the safety of the majority, but to punish in the most effectual way known to us, orimes of violence and deter, natives from committing them, then the present mode of publicly hanging a man is not best adapted to that end. What is, may be worth discussing.

THE outrage on the Kinshan, an account of which will be found in another co-Commodore has declared that the Kinshan was not justified in refusing to acknowledge the assumption of authority put forth by the Captain of the Chun Hoi. The idea of recognizing the armed revenue cruizers of the Vicerov as men-of-war entitled to demand the respect accorded by international custom to vessels of that class would be absurd chough in itself. But to support the dictum that a daily passenger steamer, running under such conditions as those of the H. K. and M. Steam-boat Company is to be fired into by any jack in authority who has a 24-pounder "convanient" is intolerable. Fortunately the Chinese or whoever is responsible will have to answer to Sir R. MacDonnell and the Government of Hongkong. matter is not likely to end with the don't-mind-being-kicked response of the Chief Naval authority, and we are very particularly mistaken if Admiral Sir H. Keppel is the man to endorse such a policy. Upon strictly the same principle the Great Republic might be compelled to shew her flag to a well armed war-junk-in fact, the junk has the better claim to shew, as these vessels are revenue cruizers only, and their flag is not acknowledged by interustional law. It is fair to say that the chief officer of the Chun-hoi acted under strict orders, for which Mr Marcy is responsible and for which we trust that he will be called to strict account,

A considerable number of cases appeared in this morning's cause list, but few possessed any public interest. Mr Leonard Barnes and Mr E. W. Blackwood were amongst the defendants; and likewise Mr A. Mitchell appeared as defendant, for $500 each, in two suits at the instance of two Chinese contractors. in the matter of the new Hotel building. Mr Mitchell contended that, although the contracts produced were signed by him, he ble in any way; and besides the subconexecution. Amongst our local criminals | tractors knew this at the time. His Honor observed that there was no use arguing that point; the defendant had signed the contracts, and he was responsible for their observance; that was a settled point, and would accordingly give judgment in both cases. OUR Canton correspondent writes :- The falling off in the trade complained of by the Directors of the Steam-boat Company in their last report, whilst pretending to possess the monopoly of the traffic on the Pearl river, cannot certainly refer to the freight department, for, according to the Customs' returns, the quantity of Indian Cotton imported by the Company's steamers during the first half of the present year, is 25th. over 54,000 bales; and of Cotton Yarn, 5.500 bales. The importation of other staple articles, such as Cotton Piece Goods, Lead, &c., have been on as steady a scale as it has ever been since the closing up here of several large tea-buying houses, and the reason of its not increasing is to be found in the fact of the ten-trade being concentrated in a few hands; consequently | New York. the chaa-szes patronize their own friends, who naturally take advantage of the fact and fearing no competition on the part of | Thibet after a very hard journey of twenty their neighbours, prefer hard dollars to days from Ta-tsien-loo, during which he merchandise in full payment for the teas. had suffered greatly. OUR Whampon correspondent writes :-- On Puesday last, the 22nd instant, the steamship Kwang Tung, sister ship to the Shang Tung, made her trial trip from this port, previous to her delivery, on the following day, to the Chinese Government. Kwang Tung left Whampoa at 11.30 a.m. steaming down the river towards the Bocca Tigris. The course, traced out for her, order to show her speed, was from second Bar Pagoda, bearing West, to Tiger Island claw, bearing West, -and back, -a distance of 11 miles either way. This route was accomplished in a little over two hours, giving her an average run of 10 nautical miles per hour. Going down, a strong flood and resh breeze were against her, while on the return the tide was in her favor. The reault altogether proved a highly satisfactory The pressure of steam amounted to from 20 to 38 lbs.; the evolutions per minute were from 114 to 130; vacuum 231 inches and temperature of feed water 1340. about 4 o'clock Whampoa was reached, when the Kwang Tung immediately proceeded to Canton .- and came to anchor off Shameen. COLLISION IN THE PRINCE'S

CHANNEL.

The subjoined letter is from the Straits Pimes of Sept. 18. It contains statements that should certainly form the subject of special official enquiry in the proper quarters. The writer says:-

Sir.—There has been lately a report current here to the effect; that a somewhat strange accident happened to a boat belonging to H. M's. steamer Adventure, in the Prince's Channel, a narrow entrance to the Straits of Sunda. It appears that the North German barque Rebecca, from Cardiff bound to this port, on passing through the Channel above-mentioned, with the wind blowing from the E. S. E., close-hauled on the starboard tack, and barely weathering the "Carpenter Reefs" off Prince's Island noticed a boat under sail on the port tack on his weather bow, which passed ahead at some distance. The Captain being naturally very anxious about his ship, and it being a common occurrence to see boats passing across the Straits, paid no further attention In the course of their remonstrance, the | to her until some of his crew who were bumemorialists observe that "the gaming sily employed in various ways on board the farm appears to have been carried into effect ship, called out to him that a boat was by the local authorities after her Majesty's | coming under the vessel's lee bow, -at the same time he heard some one in the boat hailing the ship. In order then to prevent a collision, the Captain ported his helm and hove to, when he observed several men in the water, and at the same time, it is said. that the Adventure's boat struck the Rebecca's martingale, breaking one of her (the ed to the highest bidder; the yearly consi- boat's) masts, and fouling the vessel's port deration money received in advance from anchor. The Master immediately mustored the former, and as already mentioned, such of his crew as were at hand, hauled twelve licensed gambling houses set up by his mainsail up, and backed his main-yard. him, and brought into active operation He then proceeded with all possible speed amongst the mixed community of less than to get the boat clear, which he succeeded in doing very quickly. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & CINTMENT HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. HIS Medicine is universally admitted or to the committee any information reto be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT The science of Medicane has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Uintment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-
